

Loneliness.

Travel, in the minds of many, is an exhilarating experience. It creates a surge of excitement as old habits are put aside for new adventures. It's invigorating, stimulating... you name it.

Or is it?

Look around the passenger terminal of any major airport and you may see one of the loneliest places in the world.

There, weary travelers waiting for planes dispiritedly while away the time, oblivious to surroundings or neighbors.

Tedium is their lot, loneliness their legacy.

In the waiting rooms, chairs and benches are lined up abreast, inhibiting conversation even when the occupants know each other or are traveling together.

Unimaginative decor creates an atmosphere of cold impersonality, causing the traveler to yearn for the warmth of home and fireside.

Even when he finds refuge in a newspaper or magazine and transports himself briefly into another world, the traveler is rudely returned to reality by public address system announcements on flight arrivals, departures and delays.

Corridors of interminable length add to the traveler's frustrations. Long waits at baggage counters compound them.

Eventually the journey ends. Sometimes it's even been rewarding. But don't bet on it.

This Week's PICTURE SHOW by AP photographer George Brich.

Frustration.

Boredom.

Strange new world.

Endless Corridors.

Tomato Soup Scores Again in a Pork Chop Skillet Meal

"Think tomato" the next time you prepare pork chops. A tangy, vivid tomato soup sauce brings out the full-bodied flavor of pork; enhances its color also. You'll like the short preparation time too. Once you have browned the chops, stir in double-rich condensed tomato soup and seasonings and cook over low heat for fifteen minutes. Then add a package of frozen lima beans for the last thirty minutes of cooking time.

Do it all with canned condensed tomato soup! Do all kinds of soups; do all kinds of sauces—for steak, fish, burgers or chicken; do all kinds of casseroles and pastas; do all kinds of surprises like tomato soup cake and salad dressings.

Along with the pork chops serve cinnamon apple slices. Grand finale for the meal...

ROSY PORK CHOP-LIMA BEAN SKILLET

6 pork chops (1½ pounds)
Dash pepper
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
¼ cup water
½ cup chopped onion
½ teaspoon marjoram, crushed
½ teaspoon Worcestershire
1 package (10 ounces) frozen lima beans
In skillet, brown chops; season with pepper. Pour off fat. Stir in soup, water, onion, marjoram, and Worcestershire. Cover; cook over low heat 15 minutes. Add beans. Cover; cook 30 minutes more or until tender. Stir now and then. Makes 4 servings.

SHOWBEAT

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—The spotlight pointed a skinny yellow finger at the frightened blonde as she did an amateurish strip-tease on the little black stage. The camera crew looked bored, but they really weren't. They all knew this was something different, even for Hollywood.

The girl was Alexandra Hay. She was involved in what may be the most expensive screen test Hollywood has ever seen.

Nobody knows for sure. But for a studio to spend six days (and maybe even more) and probably around $80,000 on a screen test has to be pretty high up on the expensive-test ladder.

This was Bob Aldrich's idea. He wants to do a picture called "The Greatest Mother of 'Em All," about a horrible stage mother. This nasty lady pushes her daughter into stardom via strip-teasing at 15 and worse at 15½-going-on-16.

ABC Pictures is interested in the property. But the part of the daughter is the key one—"She carries the picture," Aldrich says—and they don't want to O.K. a $2 million film without being sure the girl who plays that part can cut it.

Aldrich has Ann Sothern to play the mother and Peter Finch and Kate Woodville set in other parts. And he thinks Alexandra Hay is right for the girl. ABC wants to be shown—so Aldrich is showing them.

He's putting together a 30-minute film, with scenes from the script. Ann Sothern and Peter Finch and Kate Woodville have volunteered their services to the project; Aldrich only pays their expenses. He had sets built and a 25-page script written from the original.

He is now, three days into the test filming, more convinced than ever that Alexandra Hay is perfect for the part.

"When we started," he says, "I was sure she was sexy enough but I wasn't sure she was a good enough actress. Now I know she is a good enough actress—but she hasn't come over quite as sexy as I would like. I can fix that, however."

"I'm sure they'll buy her for the part. I don't see how they can turn her down. If they don't take her, they don't know their backside from a hot rock."

She was supposed to be stripping in a sleazy San Fernando Valley club. Choreographer Alex Romero had worked out a sleazy San Fernando Valley club routine, and she was going through it grimly—throwing her clothes, piece by piece, into the wings and chewing gum and making love to the pink drape.

Alexandra Hay is 21. She looks maybe 16 in this scene, but Aldrich says in other things she actually does look 15. Between takes, with a cigarette dangling from her lips and her blond hair piled on top of her head, she looked 21 again.

Aldrich thinks that maybe in the old days they did things like this. He remembers hearing about David Selznick doing a few tests for girls to play Scarlett in "Gone With the Wind." But others on the set believe that they really didn't do the elaborate things he is doing for this—didn't build new sets or hire choreographers or tailor scripts.

It all got so elaborate, in fact, that some of the other actors were a little worried. They figured that maybe they weren't so smart in volunteering to do this for nothing.

"We had to reassure them," Aldrich says. "that we weren't just going to add a few close-ups and presto, have a finished movie. What we did was to use very stylized sets, so they know not one inch of this test footage will wind up in the finished movie."

When it's all done, it will be cut and edited and scored. "Then I can show it to the cereal manufacturers who run the movie business today," Aldrich says.

Just heard about the Englishman who learned to officiate at ball games but refused to call 'em at night outings. Just goes to prove that the sun never sets on the British empire.

The success of some diets is due, perhaps, to the fact that the lack of flavor contributes to the loss of appetite.

Marty Alm Muck, 8, the 1970 March of Dimes National Poster Boy, was born without arms and with a hip defect that causes his left leg to be three inches shorter than his right. Moans, Groans Are Baume's Bag

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—A completely new post has been created by President Georges Pompidou's government, that of "Secretary of State entrusted with Public Opinion," but 45-year-old Jacques Baume describes his title as "Minister of Moans and Groans."

Baume's appointment, one which has never before existed in France and probably doesn't exist anywhere else, is one of the real innovations of the practical imagination of the dynamic prime minister, Jacques Chaban-Delmas.

The first urgent problem for the new minister was that of automobile traffic. On the July 14 national holiday literally millions of Frenchmen took off for their month's vacation, heading for the beaches, mountains and countryside in the first of the traditional and lethal exodus of the summer.

One hundred and eighty-seven people were killed, but there would have been more casualties but for an initiative of the government's "Operation Amaranth." This mobilized army doctors, hospitals and nurses, as well as civilian services, to treat

His next report to the prime minister proposes some emergency measures concerning road casualties: medical examination every five years for all drivers, inspection and repair of all cars over 10 years old.

Baume also plans to experiment with what he calls the "continuous day" for office and factory workers. He thinks this shift system could solve the problem of bottlenecks and traffic congestion during peak hours.

Now that he's very much in the public eye, Baume's own peak hours are continuous.

casualties.

The initiative of calling in the army staff was Baume's.

"My concern is with the ordinary life of the ordinary Frenchman," says Baume. Mine is a ministry without frontiers, without direct responsibility over any branch of administration."

According to this new trouble-shooter, the country has reached the limits of what is humanly bearable in terms of bureaucracy.

The May-June, 1968, uprisings were, in Baume's opinion, a rebellion against bureaucracy.

"We must humanize the man behind the desk and simplify the forms," he says. "We want to replace the tension between the state and the individual with a smiling, relaxed atmosphere."

Baume says his job is to keep his ear to the ground, listen to Frenchmen, be the government's radar.

"I took on the job," says Baume, "because I am a man of human contacts and public relations. I have always been interested in this sort of thing."

He receives from 100 to 200 letters a day, some from madmen, some from cranks with a system, some raising special problems which he orders his staff to investigate, others with suggestions that deserve study.

At the close there will be our "Choir Dedication" Service. 2:30 p.m. - District Guild Meeting in the Methodist Church, Mineral Springs, Ark.
2:30 p.m. - District Meeting in First United Church, Nashville, Ark.
5:30 p.m. - UMY Groups will meet in Fellowship Hall.
7:00 p.m. - Evening Worship Service. Sermon: "More Than Conquerors" - Pastor.

Get The Light From GOD'S LIGHTHOUSE

GUIDE YOU TO HIS CHURCH

transforming POWER

How important is this transformer to the electrician! It contains an induction coil for raising or lowering electric pressure. It does not generate power but is master over the current that passes through it. God is that way too. He is master over all. He holds the key to the door and directs the cloud that brings the rain. His love is revealed in the beauty of the rose and his concern for us shown in saving us from the storm. He is Lord, and God, and Master of all. He has the power to control our lives... our wealth... our health. As the transformer is necessary to the distribution of electricity so is His church necessary to the transforming of lives in the community... in the world.

TRUST ONLY IN HIM

If your church is to be a going concern, it must have church-going members. Sponsors listed below urge you to attend services this week.

The bidding of today's hand by Sam Stayman and Vic Mitchell of the New York team in the Spingold finals is well worth study. Holding 19 points, Vic had too much to open one no-trump, so he bid one club. He jumped to two no-trump after the one-spade response.

Sam Stayman rebid to three hearts, since his hand was definitely of a suit pattern. At this point, Vic's hand appeared to offer great slam potential. Eighteen of his 19 points were in aces and kings and he held a doubleton diamond and four hearts. He decided to make a slam try and he had a ready-made bid at his disposal. He bid four diamonds. This did not suggest diamonds as the suit for the final contract but did convey the message that the four-heart bid had made Vic's hand look better and that, if Sam wanted to go on toward a slam, Vic was ready to go along with him.

Sam had no interest at all in a slam and was happy to sign off at four hearts. There was no problem to the play at four hearts. Sam had to lose two trumps and one diamond but was able to ruff one spade in dummy and, hence, get away without the loss of a trick in that suit.

At the other table, the Dallas pair landed at four spades and had to lose a spade in addition to the diamond and two hearts and were down one. This represented a net loss of 470 points, or 10 IMPs.

This hand also illustrates the factor of luck in duplicate. Four hearts is a better contract than four spades, but most of the time either of the two contracts would make and the spade bidders would not have been punished.

A—Pass. Unless your partner is a real underbidder, there will be no play for five diamonds and you are likely to be too high at the four-level.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of rebidding to two diamonds, your partner has jumped to three diamonds. What do you do now?
Answer Monday

PERSONAL FINANCE
By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT
If you're a fan of the really ancient movies that appear on late-night television, you may very well have been exposed to one old standby that thickens its plot with a bank failure.

There's a classic shot in which the banker stands at the window, contemplating suicide, while depositors who have lost a lifetime's savings pound vainly on the door.

It all sounds terribly melodramatic now and probably strikes most viewers as unreal. But banks do fail, even in this day and age. The fact that contemplated suicide and busted depositors are not part of the current scene can be credited as a safeguard you shouldn't forget.

The safeguard is called deposit insurance, which is just what it sounds like. If your checking and savings accounts are in an insured bank, you are automatically entitled to $15,000 worth of protection if anything goes wrong.

And things have gone wrong for a total of eight times so far this year. Five bank failures have occurred in Texas alone. Colorado, Illinois and Michigan have had one each.

In each of the eight failures, the depositors have been protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Several courses of action are open to the FDIC once the bank has been closed. One is to repay the depositors for their insured deposits and allow the bank to remain closed permanently.

This can be a disruptive process, since many failed banks are in small towns that have no other banking facility nearby. Trying to continue a banking service is the aim of a second possible maneuver.

This is to allow a well-financed, nearby bank (or a newly organized one) to take over the failed bank's assets and liabilities. To make this possible, the FDIC purchases all assets found to be unacceptable to the new bank.

The FDIC salvages what it can from its purchase and writes off the remainder.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH
DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: My name is "Fang." The kids don't call me that any more—I'm 22 now—but I still hear their taunts. I don't think I've smiled since I was 10. My four front teeth are crooked and sort of pushed in. That makes my upper lip sink in and so my fangs stick out even more. My smile is like a snarl.

Can something be done for me? I think my other features are fairly good and I'm not bad-looking. I've been told I have beautiful eyes and hair, and my nose isn't that bad.—Joyce O.

DEAR "BEAUTIFUL EYES": Yes, something can be done to unsmile your smile. Pardon the pun. If you don't mind wearing braces like a teenager, you can have your crooked teeth straightened and the eye teeth moved back to a more normal, less prominent position.

The so-called ideal time to have teeth straightened is 9 to 12, but you're not too old to have braces now. You know, orthodontic treatment has no age limit. Health conditions are the controlling factors: For instance, the state of your general health, condition of your teeth and gums and the amount of bone supporting your teeth.

What about time and money? It's hard to say. These are questions that your dentist and orthodontist can best answer. They will have to decide if orthodontia is the treatment of choice.

Before a decision can be made, clinical and X-ray exam, and jaw and head measurements are necessary. And even if teeth-straightening is the ideal treatment, other circumstances, such as lack of money or time, or disinclination to wear braces for a year or more, could influence a choice of treatment which is less severe and more simple.

For instance, it's possible to reshape the eye teeth, making them less pointed and less prominent. Also the four front teeth can be capped to build them forward. In extreme cases, the four front teeth can be extracted and replaced by a bridge from eye tooth to eye tooth, thus rounding out the front arch and effecting a better cosmetic result.

1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude McCorkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line: 1880—Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers. 1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury. 1884—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W. Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald—but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly Hempstead County Review. 1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929—C.E. Palmer and A.H. Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957—Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president. 1969—With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president—balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

Hope Has No Trouble With Visitors

By RALPH ROUNTON

And then there were five. The Hope Bobcats, powered on by defense and Ronny Brown, crushed the North Little Rock Oak Grove Hornets 47-7 in a non-conference game last night at Hammons Stadium.

Entering next week's Donnybrook at Fairview, the Bobcats have won the five straight for a 5-1 record. Oak Grove fell to 1-5, and they never had a prayer from the first scrimmage down.

Ronny Brown scored a touchdown, five conversions, and two field goals for a total of 17 points, but played very little as the second-teamers played most of the way for the last three periods.

With the opening kickoff the visiting Hornets were pushed back to a 4th and 12 at their 35, but a roughing-the-kicker infraction on Hope gave Oak Grove a first down at mid-field.

Quickly the Bobcat defense forced another punt, but Brown broke through to block Jerry Trammell's kick. Brown gathered in the loose ball at the 32, and fought off Trammell into the end zone for the TD. With the extra point Hope led 7-0 with 9:02 showing without yet running an offensive play.

Faced with a 3rd and 13 at his own 37, Hornet quarterback Jack Dollarhide passed directly to Bobcat linebacker Larry McWilliams, who picked it off at the Oak Grove 40 and ran 23 yards to the 17.

It took the offense three plays to score, with tailback Thomas Lloyd sweeping the right side for the last five yards and the second score. Brown's kick was good, and the 14-0 margin looked good with 7:20 still left in the opening period.

Late in the quarter, a short punt set the Bobcats in great field position at the Oak Grove 25, and two plays resulted in another six-pointer.

On the opening play of the second segment, Lloyd picked his way for 22 yards to paydirt and Brown's kick made it 21-0.

On the next series, the Bobcat defense swarmed through to smother Dollarhide, who fumbled in the scramble. Junior tackle Winston Franks jumped on the loose ball at the Hornet 25, and the Cats started there with the second unit.

Headed by soph quarterback Tommy Frazier, the reserves took seven plays to record the tally, with tailback Rusty Quillin going over from the one on 4th and goal. Brown kicked it through, and Hope led 28-0 with 6:05 still left in the half.

With less than a minute remaining before intermission, Oak Grove punted to midfield and the second unit went in for Hope to kill out the clock.

Instead, Quillin broke clean from the line of scrimmage on first down, and turned on some speed in a 50-yard gallop for his second six-pointer. With 0:35 on the board, Brown kicked it to 35-0.

Hope took the second-half kickoff, and Frazier drove his crew to the Hornet 15, where a major penalty pushed the ball back. With 4th down at the 34, Ronny Brown booted a tremendous 41-yard field goal into the wind, and the Bobcats led 38-0 with 8:17 left in the third segment.

The next kickoff went down to the goal line but stopped at the one, and Oak Grove made no effort to return it. A kick-off over ten yards is a free ball, and Hope end Clifton Pevey merely picked the ball up there on the one and handed it to the referee and the Cats took over.

Halfback Isaac Hendrix got the call on third down, and took it over from the two for his first score of the year. This time Brown tried to pass for two points to David Still, but it was no good and the 44-0 spread hit the scoreboard with 7:09 still left in the third quarter.

After recovering a fumble at the Hope 39, Oak Grove finally got off a march against the Bobcat second unit, who put up a good fight for most of the last three periods. Dollarhide and fullback Donald Barber carried the ball on the drive, but it was tailback John

Winners of Series Get $15,000 Each

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — A $15,000 prize awaits the winners of the World Series between the Baltimore Orioles and New York Mets, but a number of players are unhappy about the payoff despite the fact that it represents the biggest pot of gold in baseball history.

"What we wanted was $25,000," said Baltimore outfielder Frank Robinson today before the opener of the Series, which was telecast nationally by NBC starting at 1 p.m. EDT. "Our argument has been that we should get as much as the pro football players."

"But the others wouldn't go for it."

What the owners did go for was $15,000 for the winners and $10,000 for the losers, guaranteeing record payoffs in both cases. Under the old system, based on gate receipts, the largest winning share was the $12,794 collected by the Los Angeles Dodgers after they defeated the New York Yankee in 1953.

In addition, the $15,000 top prize a baseball player can earn in post-season action falls well short of what a pro football player can make by going all the way through post-season play and winning the Super Bowl.

Last year, for example, the New York Jets collected about $8,000 for winning the American Football League championship and $15,000 for beating Baltimore's Colts in the Super Bowl—a total of $23,000.

"The owners basically collected money off the playoffs," said Robinson. "We got nothing. When we talk to the owners this year it will be our position that we want $25,000—equal to what the football players get."

Both first basemen Ed Kranepool of the Mets and third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Orioles, player representatives of their respective teams, concurred with Frank Robinson's thinking, but declined to say what figure the players would be shaking for.

"You have to recognize that the guarantees in the Series are based on the anticipated playoff attendance," Kranepool said. "Now we know what that is and everyone is aware of the factor of what television pays for the playoffs."

"The owners know what's going on—they sold a big package to television. So I don't see any reason to fight. The playoffs should go up. The minimums now are too low. There's no question about it."

One dissenter was Kranepool's teammate, outfielder Ron Swoboda, who said more was involved in the World Series than money.

"Nobody's thinking much about money I don't think," said Swoboda. "Getting here is the important thing. Everything is conditional on getting here. At this point, it gets to be a matter of pride. You prove something here."

The Mets will be trying to win basically with the same ingredients that carried them to a National League pennant—tight pitching and timely hitting by either of Manager Gil Hodges' two lineups—the one for right-handed pitchers and the one for lefties. Hodges used his right-handed batting order today against Baltimore starter Mike Cuellar with Swoboda in right field, Donn Clendenon at first, Al Wells at second and Ed Charles at third. Sitting down, after their Atlanta triumphs, were Art Shamsky, Kranepool, Ken Boswell and Wayne Garrett.

In Sunday's second game, it figures to be Jerry Kosman for the Mets against Dave McNally. When the scene shifts to New York after Monday's day off, Gary Gentry is likely to open for the Mets Tuesday against Jim Palmer.

The fourth and fifth games also are scheduled for New York on Wednesday and Thursday, and if necessary, the sixth and seventh games will be played in Baltimore next Saturday and Sunday. All games will

Ohio State Is a Big Favorite
By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hello Columbus, goodbye Michigan State.

Underdog Michigan State travels to Columbus, Ohio—otherwise known as the Land of the Giants—for the football game Saturday with Ohio State, the nation's No. 1-ranked college team.

A mismatch, it isn't—but most wouldn't give No. 19-ranked Michigan State a Spartans' chance against the bowl-em-over Buckeyes.

"No team is unbeatable," says Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty. But he terms Ohio State quarterback Rex Kern the best he's ever seen.

The Ohio State-Michigan State affair is one of an attractive Saturday card featuring a host of games between Top Twenty teams. Tonight, only two games are scheduled—Texas Christian University at Southern Methodist University and Louisiana State University at Miami.

Besides the Ohio State-Michigan State game, second-ranked Texas plays eighth-ranked Oklahoma at Dallas; Stanford, No. 16, is at Southern California, No. 4, in a night contest; No. 5 Penn State hosts No. 17 West Virginia; No. 20 Nebraska visits No. 7 Missouri; No. 9 Purdue is at home to Michigan and No. 6 Georgia entertains Mississippi.

Veterans Can Still Show Rookies What Pro Football Is All About

By FRAN TARKENTON
Written for NEA

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Much has been written about the important roles rookies have played in the National Football League this year. Dave Hampton of Green Bay and Ron Johnson of Cleveland and Don Herrmann of the Giants have all come up with incredible performances.

As the season progresses, however, it's my feeling that you'll be seeing many of the old-line veterans coming through in the clutch. The old cliché that you can't win championships with rookies has a lot of merit. It takes a veteran team to be a championship team.

Rookies give a team a shot in the arm, but overall, it's the veterans who will carry a team through the season. He knows. He can read situations. Experience in football is no different than in any other profession. There's no substitute for it.

The hardest thing for a rookie to be is consistent. The Hamptons and Johnsons and, in the other league, the Greg Cooks and O. J. Simpsons will have terrific moments, but you'll find that guys like Deacon Jones, Carl Eller, Alex Karas and Ray Nitschke will be making your key plays in your key games.

Some of these men are magnificent talents, to be sure, but experience remains one of their best assets. Take the Giants' Joe Morrison, for example.

Joe Morrison has been in football for 11 years. There are many guys who are bigger and faster than Morrison, but none of them are any more valuable to their teams.

In his career, Joe has played defensive safety, all three of the offensive end positions and all three of the backfield positions, including quarterback. He is a man who has never been All-Pro at any one position, but who has always been able to get the job done anywhere they put him.

Morrison gets by on his tremendous football instinct and experience. His experience gives him that little extra step at the start where a rookie might have to hesitate. This compensates for a lot of speed.

Against Chicago last week, he came into the game to be our leading ground gainer and caught three passes for 50 yards—the last one good for 26 yards and the winning touchdown with 59 seconds remaining.

If you looked, some of the other "old pros" had great days, too. John Unitas had two rough weeks against the two toughest front fours in football (Los Angeles and Minnesota's), but he came back and threw a winning touchdown pass against Atlanta to a pretty veteran end named John Mackey.

Our "cross-town rival," the Jets, got a great performance from Bill Mathis, who came off the bench and gained 51 yards and caught four passes when Matt Snell was hurt. Mathis actually retired after the Super Bowl last year, but reconsidered just before the College All-Star game in August.

An old teammate, Fred Cox of Minnesota, kicked four field goals to give the Vikings a 19-7 win over Green Bay.

And old Sonny Jurgensen rallied Washington to a touchdown in the last 30 seconds to tie San Francisco, 17-17.

As I said, rookies pep up a team, but for the big play, give me an old hand every time.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

IT'S EXPERIENCE—such as Joe Morrison, taking a hand-off, and Fran Tarkenton have—that carries a team through a season.

Love Is Coming Back to Sports, Sez Miss Susann

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Romantics around the world were heartened the other day to learn that Tommy Agee, bachelor center fielder of the New York Mets, has been receiving proposals of marriage in the mails.

Romantics like this sort of thing. It seemed for a long time the traditional affection women allegedly felt for athletic heroes was a dying ember. In this age of Penant Fever and World Series Hives and Pro Football Hyperperplexia, there was no room for Love.

Not so long ago, mere willows of men flung themselves in front of Flying Wedges for no other reason than to be worshiped by their female public. Then suddenly, which is the way such things happen, the concept melted. Women began finding more security in stocks and bonds than muscles. The athlete was left pounding his fielder's mitt.

No less an authority than Jacqueline Susann has observed, however, that love is coming back into sports. Love is her game. There are men who doubt the literary worth of her books, but the author of "The Love Machine" knows her love.

"Girls always love football players," she says. "When I was in high school, I'd go to games and sit in the stands and cheer with everybody else. I was in love with a

No Pro Football Team Will Ever Go Unbeaten

By FRAN TARKENTON
Written for NEA

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This may not come as a shock to some—and I'm not saying it simply because we were beaten by Detroit last week—but sometimes the best team does not win in professional football.

I'm saying it because, as you know, the New York Jets and the Baltimore Colts (last season's Super Bowl contestants) have lost two consecutive games apiece.

It's an interesting phenomenon, really, the kind of pressure that is put upon champions. Anytime they play, they're expected to win. Even exhibition games have gotten to be more than just exhibition games. Because of the increased attendance or money involved or something, there is a great demand on them to win, whether it's for real or for practice.

The Colts, for example, won all six of their exhibition games. The Jets got themselves up and won their key games. But this unending pressure, I believe, tends to take a lot out of a team.

The Jets were beaten by San Diego and the Colts lost to Minnesota, 32-14. The Baltimore score is probably the most amazing thing I've heard in pro football. Here's a great team and for anybody to beat them that badly is pretty incredible.

It has to be expected, though. Everybody gets up for a Super Bowl team. It's a way for a poor team to salvage a season in a two-hour period. So what if you lose seven or eight games, you beat the Colts, Jets, etc. didn't you? It's a feather in everybody's cap.

There has never been an undefeated team in professional football and I doubt there ever will be. There's too much talent in football for that to happen. But take my word for it, the Colts and Jets will be back.

Sometimes it takes a couple of early losses to arouse a good team. Sure, if you lose two in a row, that's one-seventh of your season gone. It hurts. But sometimes it makes you play better, too.

I know I wouldn't like to be the team that either the Colts or Jets play next... especially a wounded tiger like the Colts... they're going to be so tough.

New York is in a better position to recover. Houston, which leads the Jets' division in the American Football League, already has lost one game and it'll probably lose more. Unfortunately for the Colts, they're in the same National Football League division with the Los Angeles Rams—a team that rarely loses.

Both the Jets and Colts know it's still early, though. A lot of things can happen. The important thing during the first seven or eight weeks is to stay with the pack. The team that wins championships is the team that makes its move in the 10th or 11th week. Everybody's going to have some early problems—and successes.

This is the time of year for upsets, anyway. The poor teams haven't discovered just how poor they are, yet. Look at Dallas's win over New Orleans (21-17) and Los Angeles's win over Atlanta (17-7). You'd expect both to win by bigger margins, but they didn't. The Saints and Falcons hung on. They've still got confidence.

So, don't feel sorry for the Colts and Jets. Save your pity for some other team that might need it more.

BASKETBALL CHARTS

By Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Baltimore Bullets
PROSPECTUS—Earl Monroe's athletic knees are as important to the Bullets as Joe Namath's knees are to the Jets. Coach Gene Shue says his team is still basically the same club that won the Eastern Division title last year but Monroe's knees are not. He was hobbling when the Bullets opened their exhibition season. "I think he'll come around," Shue said. If he does, Baltimore could take it all this year. Prediction—Second in East.

Monroe
FORWARD—Forward Gus Johnson, who was injured at midseason and sat out the remainder of the year, also is a question mark. If Johnson returns to his old form and joins Jack Marin (15.9) or Ray Scott (11.8) at forward, the Bullets will give away little to anyone. Ed Manning, Bob Quick and Leroy Ellis are capable reserves. Rating—B.

Unsed
CENTER—Wes Unseld, the league MVP and Rookie of the Year a year ago, was a prime ingredient in molding Baltimore into an NBA power last season. He averaged 13.8 points and 18.2 rebounds. Nobody gets the ball off the boards and out on the fast break quicker. Rating—B.

GUARD—It Monroe's knees hold up, Baltimore should have one of the highest scoring backcourts in the league. Kevin Loughery complemented the Pearl's 25.8 average with a 22.6 norm. After these two, however, rookie Mike Davis of Virginia Union might be the best of the reserves. He likes to shoot as much as Monroe. Barry Orms and John Barnhill are not great subs. Rating—A—.

ROOKIES—Davis is the best of the new. He averaged 32 points last year and comes to Baltimore with a reputation as a Monroe-type shooter. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

TRIO OF TOREROS looks familiar—and it should. The brave bullfighters are U.S. astronauts Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin and Mike Collins. Lionized in every country visited on their world tour, the moon men were pictured on a bullfight poster for a uniquely Spanish treatment on their Madrid stop.

Stamps And Service

It didn't take very long to dedicate a stamp commemorating man's first landing on the moon. Postmaster Gen. Winton Blount performed the honors recently in Washington by lauding the "spirit of man" and presenting albums of the new air mail stamps to the astronauts and NASA director Tom Paine.

Meanwhile, the Post Office department received the results of a detailed study revealing that it takes an average of about two days to deliver an air mail letter and only a day and a half mail.

The problem, it seems, is that putting an air mail stamp on a letter going 250 miles or less will often delay it. But the Post Office people insist they are striving for overnight delivery of mail everywhere in the country.

But don't despair over the present service, although it took the astronauts only slightly longer to reach the moon. You can always appreciate the historic value of the stamps, once the mail arrives. — Atlanta (Ga.) Journal

Mom And Dad

A husband-wife research team at Iowa State University says the personality of the parents may help to determine the sex of the child. The team found that aggressive, ambitious fathers are likely to produce girls. Social-climbing mothers are likely to produce boys. We'd guess a marriage of these two personality types probably would produce children of both sexes—who'd be turned over to a nanny while dad dashed off to Chicago on business and mom was having lunch at the club. — Knoxville (Tenn.) School Record Falsification Case Is Set

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The trial of a suit seeking an investigation into alleged falsification of school attendance records in the Gosnell School District is scheduled to begin Dec. 2.

Chancellor Murray O. Reed of Little Rock set the trial date Thursday after refusing to dismiss the suit.

Floyd Harber, 16, of Blytheville, a former junior high school principal at Gosnell, filed the suit. Reed gave the board of education until Oct. 29 to file any pleadings.

Pressure Used in Battle of Inflation

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, and particularly Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, appears more and more willing to put pressure on the groups it thinks are crimping its fight against inflation.

But "it's far from coercion," one Treasury Department official said Thursday after Kennedy issued a strong appeal, coupled with a warning, to heavy buying businessmen, demanding unions and spendthrift consumers.

Nevertheless, Kennedy's speech to the Economic Club of Chicago was a major departure from the mild approach he has taken before in the eight-plus months he has held office.

The speech spelled out in more detail what President Nixon and his chief economist, Paul W. McCracken, have said before: Those who gamble that inflation will continue will be the final losers.

Kennedy told the club's businessmen and bankers the administration had worked hard to chill four years of inflation and was beginning to get results.

Hearing Set for Motion

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A motion for a new trial for Ernest A. Bartlett Jr. is scheduled to be heard Oct. 31 by U. S. District Court Judge Oren E. Harris.

Bartlett was convicted Sept. 26 on 26 counts of fraud in connection with the operations of the now defunct Arkansas Loan and Thrift Corp. of Van Buren.

Sam Sexton Jr., of Fort Smith, Bartlett's attorney, asked for the new trial on the grounds that Harris erred in his lengthy charge to the jury, that the verdict was contrary to the evidence and that the jury was permitted to hear what Sexton considered inadmissible evidence.

China Claims Fishing Fleet Was Strafed

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged today that U.S. warships opened fire on a Chinese fishing fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin in September and that two U.S. warplanes strafed four other Chinese fishing boats in the gulf on Oct. 4.

The Chinese did not say whether there were any casualties or damage to the boats.

Forestry Study Planned at Hope Station

A Forestry Management Study Day will be held Oct. 30 at the Southwest Branch Experiment Station at Hope, according to Cecil M. Bittle, assistant director in charge of the Branch Station.

The Study Day will begin at 10 a.m. with a guided tour of the Arkla Chemical Corp. Pine-plant at Gurdon.

At 12:30 p.m., activities will resume at the Southwest Branch Station's headquarters office near Hope. Bittle will then outline the afternoon session of the Study Day.

During the afternoon, visitors will be able to observe a tip moth control study, the growing of Christmas trees and hardwood plantations. Also, two loblolly pine research projects will be visited.

One of the projects concerns a spacing and thinning trial begun in 1942 and the other consists of a loblolly-shortleaf pine spacing trial started in 1955.

Comparison trials of wide-spacing versus conventional spacing of pine trees will also be observed as part of the afternoon tour.

Woodland management tests, the present and future outlook for forestry products, forest diseases and insects and pine plantation alternatives will all be part of a forestry management discussion period which will round out the day's activities, Bittle said.

Members of the University of Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station staff and the Agricultural Extension Service staff will conduct the discussion sessions and will be available to answer forestry management questions.

Won't Rehire Fired Officer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock Civil Service Commission Thursday refused to reinstate former Patrolman Lester S. Hall who was fired Aug. 26 by former Police Chief R. E. Brans.

Brans fired Hall for allegedly mistreating a prisoner. Hall had appealed to the Commission for reinstatement.

There was conflicting testimony during the hearing, but two witnesses testified that they saw Hall strike Charles E. Billups, 16, a Negro, with his hand and with a slapper Aug. 25 while the youth was being interrogated.

Hershey Steps Down as Draft Director

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new assignment and promotion will soften the blow, but "Mister Draft"—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey—will be relieved of his duties as director of Selective Service next Feb. 16.

The White House announced Friday the 76-year-old Hershey, head of the draft since 1941, will be reassigned as advisor to the President on manpower mobilization.

This will end his authority over the system he designed and directed as it called up more than 14.5 million men during three wars and tense years of peace.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Hershey's successor, "very likely" a civilian, has not been selected but will be named "in the very near future."

He will be appointed deputy director of Selective Service, Ziegler said, and Hershey's main job for the next few months would be to show the new man the ropes.

When the new draft director takes over Feb. 16, Hershey is to assume his new task: advising on manpower mobilization problems, aiding the transition to a youngest-first draft system, and helping to develop a standby draft for the day when the nation can turn to an all-volunteer armed force.

President Nixon announced he would nominate Hershey to the rank of full general—a rank now held by only 16 men—and said the nation owes Hershey a "well done" for his distinguished service.

Hershey declined comment, but there seemed little doubt he was leaving reluctantly, fired by a President whose draft views he supported with something less than enthusiasm.

Hershey, who is almost blind, had often said he did not plan to resign voluntarily unless he became too ill to do his job.

Ziegler said, in answer to questions, that Hershey is "in excellent health and in excellent spirits."

Asked whether Hershey or the President had initiated Hershey's reassignment, Ziegler responded, "The President made the determination to give Gen. Hershey new responsibility. As we move into these new areas, he felt he would be well advised to have Gen. Hershey in a position as his advisor."

Nixon is pressing for congressional authorization to replace the present selection-by-birthday with a lottery system of selection.

Declares U.S. Turning Back on Elderly

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said Thursday night that America is turning its back on the elderly.

"Any person over age 65 and in poverty should no longer have to have that burden on his back," Hartke said at a dinner sponsored by the Arkansas Farmers Union.

He said poverty could be eliminated.

Hartke said, however, that the Nixon administration has set wrong priorities. He said the top three priorities were the anti-ballistic missile system at a cost of $25 million, the super-sonic transport and the Vietnam war.

He noted that despite all the money spent for a radar system, a Cuban was able to fly a MiG-17 to Miami this week without being detected.

"That $25 million is wasted," Hartke said. "They don't know whether it (the ABM) will work."

Hartke, who is up for re-election next year, criticized the news media for not getting the message across on problems of the poor and aged.

He said somebody had to be concerned. He said the press hasn't gone behind the events because they are so interested in the sensational events of today.

"They don't know what makes the country tick," he said.

What's cooking? If you asked local people that question, the answers would vary greatly. Since we have so many good cooks in our area, once a month we would like to share some of the best recipes of these local people.

For an exceptionally good hors d'oeuvre, Mrs. A.C. Sinyard suggests Swedish Meat Balls with Dip. The ingredients of the meat balls are:

- 1 Pound Ground Beef
- 1/2 pound pork
- 1 cup cracker meal
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 cup grated onion
- Mix and form into small balls. Broil until done. For the dip, mix:
- 1/2 bottle catsup
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tsp. chili powder
- 1/2 cup liquid smoke

Simmer for about 15 minutes and serve in a chafing dish to keep warm. Place a toothpick in each meat ball for dipping.

Whether you are a Bobcat Booster or a Razorback Fan, your colors are red and white.

That's why Strawberry 'n' Cream Squares from Mrs. Mitch LaGrone seem particularly appropriate at this time.

The ingredients are:

- 2 pkgs. strawberry Jello
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 10-ounce pkgs. frozen strawberries
- 1 13 1/2-ounce can (1/2 cups) crushed pineapple
- 2 large bananas, finely diced
- 1 cup sour cream

Dissolve Jello in boiling water. Add berries, stirring occasionally until thawed. Add pineapple and bananas; pour 1/2 mixture into 8x8x2-inch pan. Chill until firm. Spoon sour cream over chilled Jello, spreading in an even layer; pour remaining Jello over it. Chill until firm. Cut into 9 squares and serve on lettuce ruffles.

Humphrey indicated he had been told a few secrets about a presidential peace plan, but he would not elaborate.

A few hours after the Nixon-Humphrey meeting, the White House announced the President would appoint a new Selective Service director to take over in February for Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey—long a target of youthful antiwar activists.

Laird struck a blow for the President's Vietnam policy on Thursday when he hinted a new U.S. combat posture in Vietnam could cut battle deaths to a minimum.

This came soon after American authorities in Saigon announced the lowest casualty toll—64 dead—for a week in almost three years of the war.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, when asked if this week's developments had been planned with Oct. 15 in mind, agreed this was a major element in the timing. Had the administration delayed the series of happenings until after next Wednesday, Ziegler said, the President would have faced the prospect of being accused of acting because of the protest.

Court May Order Quick Integration

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court may be ready to scrap the "all deliberate speed" doctrine and order the prompt desegregation of public schools everywhere in the South.

This is the clear import of the court's announcement Thursday that it will hear arguments Oct. 23 on an appeal by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund in a Mississippi school case.

The fund is challenging a delay granted 222 schools by the U.S. Court of Appeals in New Orleans last August. The Nixon administration had counseled delay and opposed the fund's request for an early Supreme Court decision.

The call for argument is the first major action by the high court under Warren E. Burger, the new chief justice, and must be viewed as a rebuff to the administration.

The court may end up with a ruling limited to the school situation in Mississippi. But it is more likely to follow the advice of Justice Hugo L. Black and determine whether the time has run out on compliance with the 1954 ruling that racially separate public schools are unconstitutional.

If the court insists on immediate desegregation throughout the South the ruling will rival in importance any of the last several years.

Burger's predecessor, Chief Justice Earl Warren, enunciated the "all deliberate speed" doctrine in 1955. The somewhat elastic phrase recognized that southern school districts needed time to overcome administrative difficulties but ordered them to move ahead with desegregation.

Since then, the court has regularly disapproved various approaches of southern school districts that appeared to accomplish only token desegregation.

The administration, through Sol. Gen. Erwin N. Griswold, took the position in the Mississippi case that what the court had said in these interim decisions had the effect of burying the "all deliberate speed" concept.

But the court evidently disagreed. The justices underscored the urgent view they seem to take of the situation by not waiting until Monday, the first rulings day of the new term, to make their announcement.

Nixon Calling in Policy Advisers

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, gathering Vietnam policy advisers from near and far, is taking a quick series of steps aimed at stealing some thunder from next Wednesday's antiwar protests.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was called in to report today on his just-completed survey trip to the war zone—a possible prelude to an announcement of further U.S. troop withdrawal plans.

Other members of the joint chiefs and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird also were invited to today's session.

On Friday, the President spent nearly an hour with former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. The Democrat emerged with an endorsement of Nixon's Vietnam policies and a suggestion the chief executive be given time—free from home-front harassment—to try to make them work.

Humphrey indicated he had been told a few secrets about a presidential peace plan, but he would not elaborate.

A few hours after the Nixon-Humphrey meeting, the White House announced the President would appoint a new Selective Service director to take over in February for Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey—long a target of youthful antiwar activists.

Brown was charged with operating a gambling house and gambling following raids last Saturday at Luxora.

Municipal Court Judge James Hyatt and Deputy Prosecutor Henry Swift said the case would not be pursued legally since it was a "first offense."
